Good to know that ...

In the local files, the software QuoMod Search only the contents of the documents are imported (copied) and therefore your files will remain on your front point situated. It will only be noticed where these documents are and the content is stored in the files of the software Rapid worm, so a simple search can be compared to the Google principle (= an input field for the search) done.

The content is stored on your computer and not in an uncertain cloud or other strange storage media. You can always delete the software and all content. All files are in C:/QuoMod Search/QuoMod Search {version} stored on your local hard drive. You have full control.
